Client Rights and Important Information:

- a. You are entitled to receive information from me about my methods of therapy, the techniques I use, the duration of your therapy (if I can determine it), and my fee structure. Please ask if you would like to receive this information.
- b. You can seek a second opinion from another therapist or terminate therapy at any time.
- c. In a professional relationship (such as ours), sexual intimacy between a therapist and a client is never appropriate.
- d. Generally speaking, the information provided by and to a client during therapy sessions is legally confidential. If the information is legally confidential, the therapist cannot be forced to disclose the information without the client's consent. Information disclosed is privileged communication and cannot be disclosed in any court of competent jurisdiction without the consent of the person to whom the testimony sought relates.
- e. If the client discloses information that the therapist believes he/she is a danger to themselves, their family, or society, the therapist is required to report them to the appropriate authority.

If you have any questions or would like additional information, please feel free to ask.

I have read the preceding information and understand my rights as a client/ patient.
